KEY RISKS

WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE FUND?

Credit or Default risk

- › This risk refers to the inability of the issuer of the fixed income securities held by the Fund to make the coupon or principal payments when due. In the event the issuer defaults in the coupon or principal payments, the value of the Fund will be adversely affected.

Counterparty risk

- › The Fund will be exposed to credit risk of the counterparties with whom the Fund trades with. The Fund may place deposits, invest in money market instruments, and also enter into derivative contracts for hedging purposes. In the event that the counterparty is not able to fulfil its obligations especially in the event of bankruptcy, this may lead to a loss to the Fund.

Interest rate risk

- › Generally, the value of fixed income securities will move inversely to interest rate movements. Therefore, the value of fixed income securities may fall when interest rates rise and vice versa. Fixed income securities of longer duration tend to be more sensitive to interest rate changes.

Countries or Foreign securities risk

- › The Fund may be affected by risks specific to the countries in which it invests. Such risks may be caused by but not limited to changes in the country's economic fundamentals, social and political stability, currency movements and foreign investment policies. These factors may have an impact on the prices of the Fund's investments in that country and consequently may also affect the Fund's NAV.

Currency risk

- › This risk is associated with investments denominated in currencies different from the base currency of the Fund.

Income distribution risk

- › It should be noted that the distribution of income is not guaranteed. The distribution of income is made from realised gains and/or realised income. As such, the Fund may not be able to distribute income if it does not receive such cash flows.

Refer to "Specific Risks" section of the Fund's master prospectus.
