LIPPER LEADERS RATING (OVERALL)

Total Return	Consistent Return	Preservation	Lipper Leaders Key
5	5	3	Lowest 1, Highest 5

The Lipper Leaders Ratings System is a set of tools that guide investors and their advisors to select funds that suit individual investment styles and goals. It uses investors-centred criteria to deliver a simple, clear description of a fund's success in meeting certain goals, such as preserving capital or building wealth through consistent strong returns.

Lipper Leader ratings are derived from highly sophisticated formulas that analyse funds against clearly defined criteria. Each fund is ranked against its peers based on the metric used (such as Total Return or Expense), and then the top 20% of funds in that ranking receive the Lipper Leader designation. Lipper Leaders measures are not predictive of future performance, but they do provide context and perspective for making knowledgeable fund investment decisions.

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

The Morgan Stanley Capital International ("MSCI") China Index rose 2.25% while the China Security Index ("CSI") 300 index rose 0.10% during the month. The property sector was the top performing sector in China even as local governments stepped up efforts to tighten the property market. This was due to the steep discounts to net-asset-value most property companies were trading at, while most developers' earnings were improving on the back of strong property sales. Materials were the worst performing sector during the month as downstream chemical margins continue to come under pressure after peaking last quarter. The National Bureau of Statistics ("NBS") manufacturing Purchasing Managers Index ("PMI") was 51.8 in March, while the Caixin PMI was 51.2, both indicating continued positive momentum in the economy.

In Hong Kong, the Hang Seng Index was up 2.1% while the Hang Seng China Enterprises Index was down 0.24%. Carrie Lam, the former deputy of outgoing chief execution CY Leung was voted in as the city state's first female leader and is expected to continue her predecessor's policies. There was little impact to financial markets as Carrie was widely seen as a pro-Beijing candidate and would continue to maintain stability in the city state. Consumer Discretionary was the best performing sector in Hong Kong, led by gaming and retail stocks. Southbound flows continued to be net positive into Hong Kong, further supporting the rally.

Taiwan Stock Exchange ("TWSE") index was up by 0.63% for the month. Foreign investors were net equity buyers again, buying USD 2.5bil, up from USD 1.6bil last month, with the technology sector receiving the largest inflows. In terms of sectors, consumer staples were the best performing sector led by President Chain Store that reported results and outlined plans for growth this year.

For the month under review, the fund returned 2.77%, outperforming the benchmark's return of 2.15% due to better stock selection in the consumer discretionary and information technology sectors.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Based on the Fund's portfolio returns as at 28 February 2017, the Volatility Factor (VF) for this Fund is 12.2 and is classified as "Very High" (Source: Lipper). "Very High" generally includes funds with VF that are higher than 10.605. The VF means that there is a possibility for the Fund in generating an upside return or downside return around this VF. The Volatility Class (VC) is assigned by Lipper based on quintile ranks of VF for qualified funds. VF is subject to monthly revision and VC will be revised every six (6) months. The VF for the Fund may be higher or lower than the VC, depending on the market conditions. The Fund's portfolio may have changed since this date and there is no guarantee that the Fund will continue to have the same VF or VC in the future. Presently, only funds launched in the market for at least 36 months will display the VF and its VC.
