LIPPER LEADERS RATING (OVERALL)

Total Return	Consistent Return	Preservation	Lipper Leaders Key
5	5	5	Lowest ① Highest ⑤

The Lipper Leaders Ratings System is a set of tools that guide investors and their advisors to select funds that suit individual investment styles and goals. It uses investors-centred criteria to deliver a simple, clear description of a fund's success in meeting certain goals, such as preserving capital or building wealth through consistent strong returns.

Lipper Leader ratings are derived from highly sophisticated formulas that analyse funds against clearly defined criteria. Each fund is ranked against its peers based on the metric used (such as Total Return or Expense), and then the top 20% of funds in that ranking receive the Lipper Leader designation. Lipper Leaders measures are not predictive of future performance, but they do provide context and perspective for making knowledgeable fund investment decisions.

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

Equity:
Global stockmarkets were again largely positive in July as the first-half earnings season dominated market headlines while many also benefited from supportive economic news. Markets also chose to shrug off continued political volatility in the US and the launch by North Korea of its first intercontinental ballistic missile.

Morgan Stanley Capital International ("MSCI") China Index rose 8.9% in USD terms supported by Gross Domestic Product ("GDP") growth figures of 6.9% for the second quarter that beat the government's 2017 GDP target of 6.5%, and most market expectations. However, concerns continue to linger over a slowdown in China's factory activity, with the country's Manufacturing Purchasing Managers Index ("PMI") falling to 51.4 in July from 51.7 in June. Almost all sectors in China saw gains over the month with only healthcare showing a small loss.

MSCI India Index jumped 7.7% in USD terms after a small decline in June, the only month of decline so far this year. The Indian equities experienced their best month in more than a year on a smooth transition to goods and services tax ("GST") as well as above normal rainfall so far (1st June to 30th July) in this year's monsoon season. Also, decent corporate earnings against the backdrop of the expected disruption caused by GST, somewhat helped allay concerns. Investors built up expectations of a rate cut in the August policy review as inflation continued to trend lower.

Fixed Income:
The US Federal Reserve ("Fed") held its key interest rates during the recent Federal Open Market Committee meeting on 25-26 July. The Fed believes that the current stance of monetary policy remains accommodative will continue to further strengthen the labour market conditions.

On the domestic front, Bank Negara Malaysia ("BNM") commented that the domestic economy has performed better than expected in the first quarter of 2017 and expects that the Malaysian economy to register higher growth in 2017. As such, we believe that Bank Negara Malaysia ("BNM") would leave the Overnight Policy Rate ("OPR") rate unchanged at the next Monetary Policy Committee Meeting and that any possibility of a rate change would depend on BNM's future expectation of domestic growth and inflation.

Malaysia's sovereign bond market may experience some volatility as there will be large government bond maturities in the next four months. On the other hand, MYR corporate bond market is expected to see slightly slower supply in the pipeline as investors are taking a "wait and see" approach. We expect demand for corporate bonds to remain strong as investors are in search of yields.
