LIPPER LEADERS RATING (OVERALL)

Total Return	Consistent Return	Preservation	Lipper Leaders Key
②	②	①	Lowest ① Highest ⑤

The Lipper Leaders Ratings System is a set of tools that guide investors and their advisors to select funds that suit individual investment styles and goals. It uses investors-centred criteria to deliver a simple, clear description of a fund's success in meeting certain goals, such as preserving capital or building wealth through consistent strong returns.

Lipper Leader ratings are derived from highly sophisticated formulas that analyse funds against clearly defined criteria. Each fund is ranked against its peers based on the metric used (such as Total Return or Expense), and then the top 20% of funds in that ranking receive the Lipper Leader designation. Lipper Leaders measures are not predictive of future performance, but they do provide context and perspective for making knowledgeable fund investment decisions.

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

Global equity markets were volatile in March and ended lower on worries over US trade tariffs that first targeted steel and aluminium, then Chinese technology. Most markets fell with the Morgan Stanley Capital International All Country ("MSCI") World Index down 2.1% with Developed and Emerging Markets both lower by a similar amount. In Asia, the MSCI Asia Pacific ex Japan index was 2.2% lower with the more defensive Latin America marginally outperforming however within Asia there were pockets of gains with Korea, up 2.6%, and Taiwan, up 1.3%, both outperforming markets like Indonesia and the Philippines, which were noticeably weaker. Political events overtook corporate earnings as drivers with several names resigning from the Trump cabinet, tensions rising in the middle east, and Jay Powell leading his first US Federal Reserve ("Fed") meeting and delivering a 25bps rate hike. Currency also played a role with the US dollar trading sideways against a basket of currencies but with several, notably Australia, Brazil (negatively affected by falling commodity prices) and Korea (rising on improving relations with the North) seeing strong swings. Among Asia equity markets, Korea was the best performing MSCI index with stocks benefitting from an apparent rapprochement with North Korea, notably as the North's trade with China fell sharply. Auto component manufacturers and consumer names here were particularly strong. Taiwan also outperformed, principally led by semiconductor names on an improved outlook for the sector while the defensive Malaysian market also returned a small gain. China fell 3.3% and experienced a sharp dip in the final week as the US trade tariffs materialised. Blue-chip names were hurt most and Financials also suffered but Healthcare names fared better. Among the underperformers in Asia were Indonesia, which was hit by a large-scale fund outflow and surging government bond yields, and Philippines that saw confusion surrounding the central bank's reaction to high inflation levels, with the bank reluctant to raise rates. Australia endured another testing month with lower commodity prices affecting the Aussie dollar and the local currency -denominated ASX200 seeing its worst performance in more than two years. Telecoms, Financials and Materials were the worst affected sectors with banks lower as the Royal Commission enquiry continued. India declined 3.6% to underperform other Emerging Markets but classic defensive sectors outperformed and banks sold off sharply along with energy stocks. PMI indicators were notably lower but inflation came in lower than expected, reflecting the patchy nature of the India economy at present.
